

Project Status Report

What we have working:

- Users can add friends
- Users can buy games
- Users can add funds
- Users can “have” items (we just give it to them so far for fake data)
- Users can trade with other users
- Buy and sell orders technically exist
- Transactions technically exist

What's next:

- Creating the market
- Auto buy and sell when orders are placed
- Getting information about past transactions for an item

So we do actually have quite a bit working in terms of our APIs, we just need to make it all pretty, write the application layer in flask, and pretty up the website. All in all surprisingly have a lot done all things considered.
